How to Use Your Chakras to Experience God

When you attune with these inner centers, you begin walking a Path back to God.

This is the age of your quest, the quest for your inner reality. Your inner reality can be contacted in the seven spheres known as chakras. Chakras are explained briefly in the following.

Chakra means "wheel of the law." It is a sphere of energy, a spiritual center congruent with your physical body, but located in your body of light, your etheric body.

Your Spiritual Anatomy

Here is the Divine You. Hovering above you is your God Presence, a fire infolding itself, a power more stupendous than nuclear energy because it is the atom of Spirit (your God-Presence) interpenetrating the atom of matter (you in the physical plane).

This chart shows a descent of energy. From the center of God there descends a crystal-clear stream of energy, called the crystal cord. It comes out of Spirit, descends through your Christ Self and anchors energy in your heart.

The crystal cord is your resource, your spiritual and material energy to use wisely and well. Your heart is the chalice for this crystal clear energy.

By These Seven Centers You can Experience God

To correctly use energy means to put upon it your personal vibration, but to allow that energy to retain its original perfect balance.

This is you with purified chakras, radiating great light out into the world. The chakra colors are pure, the natural color of your chakras when you are one with your Real Self. These colors are the ones released from the Ascended Masters as they appear in your etheric body, the highest vibrating body of the four lower bodies. Typically, the colors represented elsewhere are chakras with an impure overlay coloring the chakra, the chakra still being in an unpurified state of human consciousness.

This chart of the chakras shows the color of the light which each of the chakras should be emitting when it is purified and balanced, the yang and the yin of the whirling T'ai Chi. The colors correlate to the seven rays of the causal body, the seven color bands, spheres within spheres surrounding the I AM Presence, the upper figure in the Chart of Your Divine Self.

The seven chakras release God's energy. Your spiritual chakras are coordinates of infinity anchored in your body.

What inherits immortal life is the flow of God which you make your own through your chakras.

Use Your Heart Chakra to Magnetize Love

The most important chakra is your heart chakra. Your heart is burning with the pink fires of Love.

The magnet of love you create in your heart chakra is an ascending triangle. This triangle, combined with letters of living flame: I AM THAT I AM, will draw the descending triangle of God into your heart chakra. The more you meditate on this triangle superimposed on your heart chakra, the more it becomes reality.

This merging of Creator and creation is the foundation where your aura becomes the aura of God.

The Secret Chamber of the Heart

Within your heart chakra, the secret chamber is surrounded by a forcefield of incredible light and protection. This chamber is the place where the planes of Mater are consecrated to the perfecting of you in God.

This central chamber is the altar of your heart because this is the place of your threefold flame. Your threefold flame of life is literally a spark of sacred fire from God's own heart.

The threefold flame has three "plumes": the blue plume embodies God's Power; the yellow plume embodies God's Wisdom, and the pink plume embodies God's Love.

The Solar-Plexus Chakra

means the "place of the sun." The solar plexus is where your emotions, as God's energy in motion, can realize the peace of Jesus Christ and Buddha. Harmony in your emotions balances your solar plexus.

The Throat Chakra

The throat chakra is your power center and the center of your inner blueprint of the Will of God.

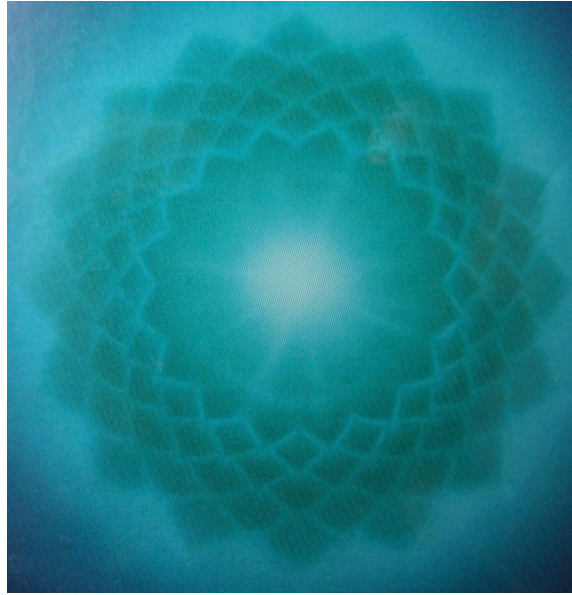

Anything and everything that proceeds from your throat chakra coalesces in form, by the action of the power of the spoken Word. The scientific use of the spoken word is the 'Truth that shall make you free' when you correctly use the spoken word every day.

The Seat-of-the-Soul Chakra

is where your soul is anchored to both your etheric body and physical body. The seat of the soul chakra focuses the violet flame, the flame of freedom, transmutation and forgiveness. When you give violet flame decrees you balance karma and set yourself free.

The Third-Eye Chakra

Through the all-seeing eye of God, your third eye is the inner eye of your soul. You tune in to what should be in reality, instead of what may be in the present. The third eye, vibrating the emerald green of the science of truth, gives you the immaculate picture of individuals, of civilizations, of the divine pattern of all life.

The Base-of-the-Spine Chakra

is the white light of the Mother flame. The physical plane is a manifestation of Mother because this where Spirit focalizes in matter: it is mater-realization or materialization.

The Crown Chakra

The goal of self-mastery is the flowering of the “thousand-petaled lotus” of the crown chakra. True wisdom is when you attain your crown consciousness.

The Fiery Coil of Life

By your application to these studies, there is builded in your aura a fiery coil of life.

As you look down at your feet, the coil proceeds from what would be the twelve o'clock line, positioned just in front of your feet. The coil is an electrode winding in a clockwise direction, approximately ten inches in diameter, the coils spaced three inches apart. From beneath your feet to the top of your head, this coil is a pulsating white fire.

Devotee Standing in the Ovoid

Visualize your aura as an ovoid of white light extending beneath your feet, beneath the coil, above your head, and above the coil.

See your aura increasing in intensity as the sacred fire mist is expanded from your heart chakra and then from all chakras. The sacred fire will seal the pure energies flowing through purified chakras.

Caduceus Action through Purified Chakras

The caduceus flow is a figure-eight pattern of purified energy that crosses in your heart and reaches its culmination in your crown chakra.

By these seven centers you can experience God. Each of these centers is a temple. When you attune with these inner centers you engage in walking a path back to God.

When you balance your energies you increase the light within. When you consciously work on the spiritual part of your life, you can attract everything you want. You begin to know and to recognize your perfect plan, the divine plan for your life.

Your Body of Light

Kirilian photography catches a blueprint, an energy forcefield of life. You can visualize your body of light, your etheric body or electromagnetic forcefield with similar intensity and clarity.

A leaf will have this beauty in its life forcefield because it is one with its divine purpose, it has no awareness apart from its reason for being.

However, most of us have lost the sense of our oneness with life. We have forgotten our divine purpose and so our forcefield becomes distorted and out of balance.

It takes work to have your body filled with light and your chakras spinning.

“if you can achieve the balance of the seven rays within the seven chakras, whirling and spinning as sun centers, and have the equalization of these centers going forth in equal vibration, rhythm, light, and music, you will find that the seven mighty Elohim will manifest and project their God consciousness through your seven chakras and your own causal body of light will be more accessible to you. Instantaneously, in answer to your call made in God-harmony, those spheres of the causal body will descend to the heart chakra and be directed in the fabulous flow of light through the seven centers of being.”
